Jane Fontane

www.janefontane.com

A contemporary artist who investigates the contributing factors that create an individual and how these elements are shaped and constructed by the environment in which they exist. The works explore how the identity is formed in young boys, what factors contribute and the tension that is created in the struggle to succeed in creating oneself. These events inform who the individual is to become. However, these catalysts are not individual occurrences, they exist in our culture, in our surroundings, our environments. We are individual but we are a whole, the movable arm of a connect-together Transformer©, singular and yet necessary for the completion of something larger.
